Dear Amala,

Today is November, 17. It's Children's Day in our school. All the kids are happy.

On this day we don't have lessons in our classrooms. We go to the playground.

Do the teachers give us tests on this day? No, we usually listen to the stories or watch films.

There is also a special assembly¹ for children. After the assembly there are funny shows.

On this day we wear colourful clothes. We dance, sing and play games. We have fun all day long.

Do you have Children's Day at your school?

Write me soon.

The Ants' Mushroom

after Anatolii Hryhoruk

Once there was Anti the Ant. He lived in the forest with his big family. All the ants were always busy. They worked all day and all night. They made their house of sticks and grass.

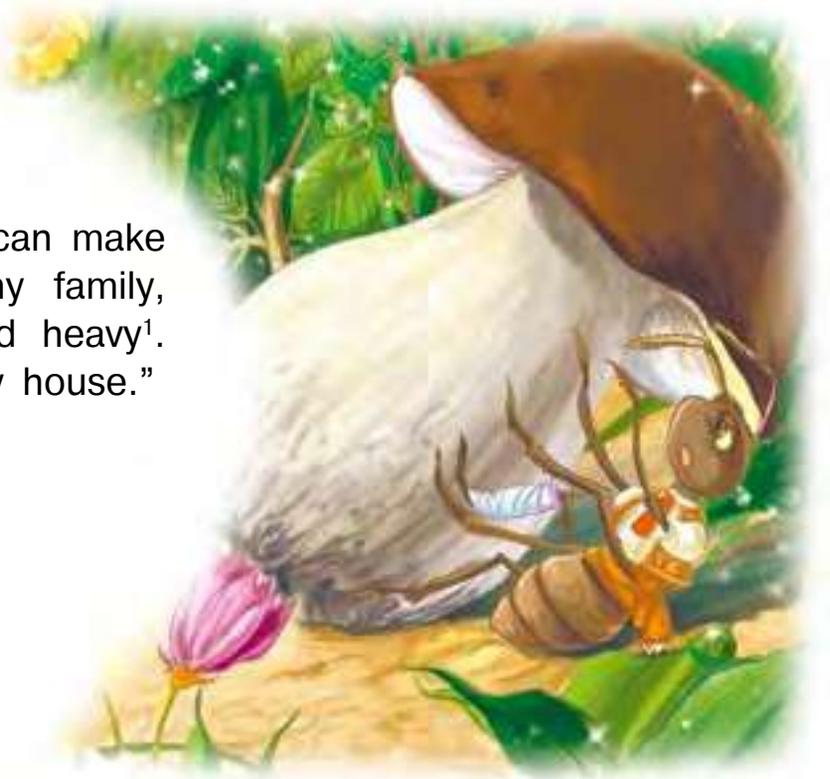

One morning Anti went out to look for food. The day was cloudy and the grass was wet after the rain. Anti slipped¹, fell² down and hurt his leg. Suddenly he saw a big mushroom near his feet.

² fall — fell — впасти

“Oh, this mushroom can make a good dinner for my family, but it’s very thick and heavy¹. I cannot carry it to my house.”

Just then he saw Peter the Beetle. “Can you help me carry the mushroom, Peter?”

“Of course. Let’s try.”

We are friends.

Come along!

All together,

We are strong.

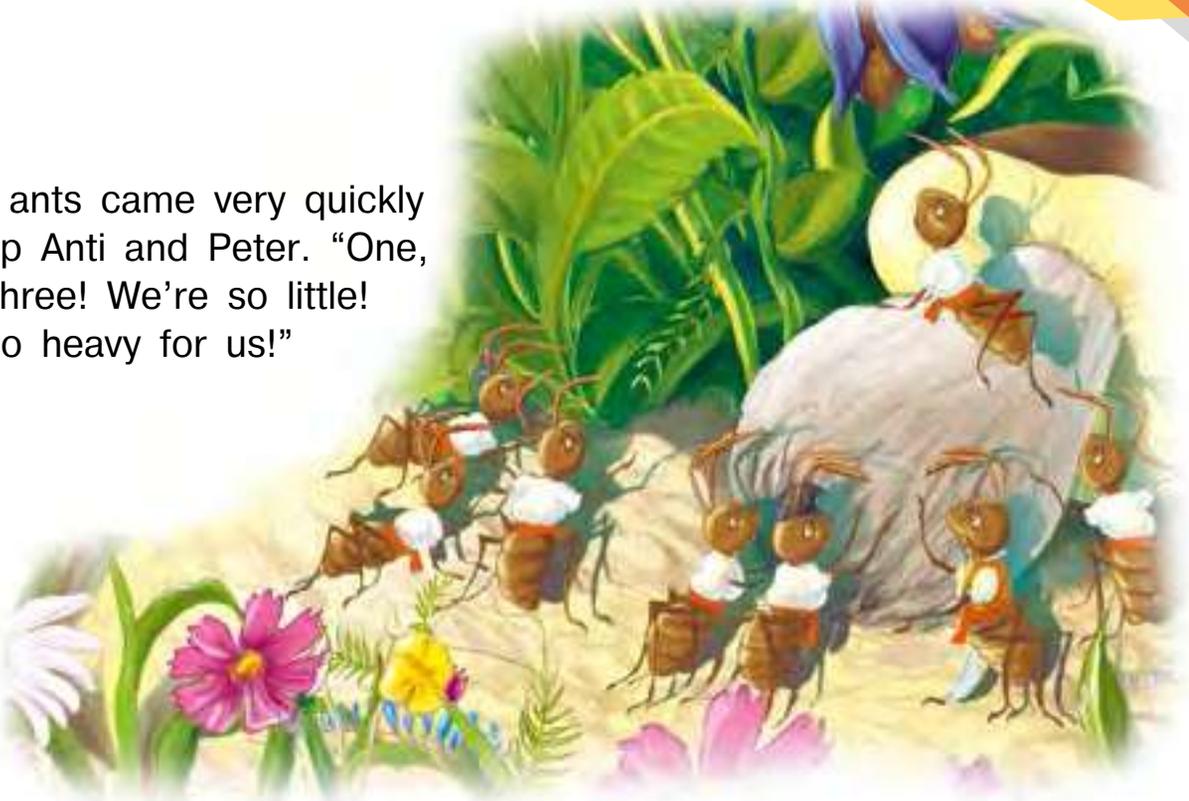

Anti the Ant and Peter the Beetle couldn’t lift² the mushroom. “Call³ your family, Anti”, Peter said.

¹ heavy — важкий

² lift — підняти

³ call — кликати

The ants came very quickly to help Anti and Peter. “One, two, three! We’re so little! It’s too heavy for us!”

“Let’s try again”, said Anti.
We are the family.
Come along!
All together,
We are strong.

The ants tried again and again and at last they lifted the mushroom and took it home.

How happy they were to have a tasty mushroom soup in the evening!
